

Lake at Little Stanion, Corby

In the summer of 2022, we got a local waterways management company, AquaServe UK, to come and give us an independent assessment of the retention lake. We agreed that works were needed to clear away the reeds which were starting to encroach over the entire lake.

The work was started in September, 2022, when we had the trees thinned out and cleared away from the inlets and around the entire lake.

In October AquaServe brought in an aquatic harvesting machine to begin the work of cutting away the reeds

We are very pleased with how it now looks. We look forward to continue working with AquaServe in the future to keep the lake well maintained.
